FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Testo Director of Food Safety and Regulatory Compliance, Eric Moore, Elected as Vice Chair of IAFP Retail and Foodservice PDG

WEST CHESTER, PA (July 9, 2018) – Testo Solutions USA, Inc. Director of Food Safety and Regulatory Compliance, Eric Moore, has been elected vice chair of the Retail and Foodservice Professional Development Group of the International Association for Food Protection (IAFP). The mission of the IAFP Retail and Foodservice Professional Development Group (PDG) is to provide the foodservice and retail industry worldwide with the necessary information to safely prepare and serve food.

Public health advocate and renowned food safety subject matter expert, Eric Moore, is the Director of Food Safety and Regulatory Compliance at Testo Solutions. For the last 18 years, Eric has been a proactive leader in improving the food safety education, policies and procedures at multiple industry-leading food service and retail organizations.

Over the span of his career, Moore has acquired various industry certifications and affiliations. He has held his CP-FS credential since 2005 and has been an active attendee and committee participant of the Conference for Food Protection since 2012. Moore is a Preventative Control Qualified Individual through the Food Safety Preventative Controls Alliance and HACCP certified by NSF International. Presently, Moore is a contributing member of the NSF Joint Committee for Food Equipment and the American Frozen Foods Institute Food Safety Working Group.

“I am excited to have been elected vice chair of the Retail and Foodservice Professional Development Group of IAFP,” Moore said. “I am looking forward to supporting the Retail and Foodservice PDG along with the other members and all of IAFP in providing the retail and foodservice industry with the information it needs to prioritize food safety.”
